

Allen Roy Jr.

May 15, 1956 - September 8, 2021

Allen Roy Jr. died on September 8, 2021. He was born on May 15, 1956. AJ, as he was affectionately called by his friends, was a kind and gentle person who loved dogs, playing checkers, doing seek and find books and gardening. He loved to watch westerns on TV and loved to dance and sing. He was quite a social butterfly and the stories he could tell kept you entertained for days. He always kept you laughing. Allen genuinely cared about the people he met and always gave a helping hand without even being asked. Allen didn't know the meaning of the word stranger.

Allen was very resilient and did not know the meaning of the word quit, which he learned very early in life when at the age of nine he was in a near fatal train accident and was given no chance of survival. But he did and surpassed every limitation that was put on him by the learned men of medicine. His dreams before that accident were to be a missionary of Jehovah God. Even though that didn't happen for the better part of his life he enjoyed talking to people about his God and getting them to read the Watchtower and Awake magazines.

He had an enormous heart. When he looked at you with that sparkle in his eye and gave you that gentle smile as he put his arms around you and gave you one of those lift you off the floor bear hugs, you knew you were loved. He was our gentle giant and will be sorely missed by the many lives he touched along his life's journey.

Allen was preceded in death by his parents, Allen Roy, Sr. and Alice J. Roy; and oldest brother, Frank Roy.

Allen leaves to mourn his loss, his sisters, Sylvia Tolson, Gloria Cottman, Catherine Roy and Deborah Simms (and her husband Lionel); and numerous cousins, nieces, nephews and great nieces and nephews. They will miss Uncle Allen deeply.

Sleep now, dear brother. It won't be long until we feel that hug again. We love you so much,
Your family
