

Andre K. Blake

November 8, 1980 - April 4, 2021

Andre Korsan (armor, shield and protector) Blake, of Dover, Delaware, was born on November 8, 1980, died unexpectedly and returned to Allah, on April 4, 2021, at the age of 40.

Andre attended Dover High School and later received his GED. His career was a material handler.

Andre was a devoted son, brother and uncle to his family. He loved spending time with his family and making sure their needs were met. Andre was always there when you needed him, as he had a great heart. He was very protective of his family and always concerned about their care. Andre knew in his heart that he needed to take care of his mom and dad, so went to watch over them, as it was the best way he knew to take care of them.

Andre was predeceased by his grandmothers, Elizabeth Louise Blake and Helen Marcella Willingham; uncles, Anthony Blake, James Wilson and Robert Willingham; and many cousins and friends.

Andre is survived by his parents, Deatra and Michael Blake; younger sisters, La'Kendra Short (Arran) and Taja Whaley (Jordan); younger brother, Tyrie Blake (La'Toya); nieces, Jayla Whaley and Anari Pope; nephews, Jayson Pope and Jah'Sai Blake; aunts, Ambrosia, Arlene, Elsie, Irene, Melissa and Pearl; uncles, Abdulkarim, Gordon and Terrance; great aunt, Hester Wilson; great uncle, James Wilson; godparents, Zina Woods, Doris Wilson and Robbie and Willett Scott. In addition, Andre is survived by cousins, extended family; fiancé, Serethea Major and many friends.
