“ Dear family, I express my deepest sympathy for the loss of your dear loved one and I know it's so hard to bear. But know that your heavenly Father understands your pain and He cares. He extends a hope to each and everyone and that hope is that you will see your loved one again. John 5:28, 29; Isaiah 25:8a

“ Hi Mom. This is your big girl. I told you my strength is because of you, and I promised you I'd stay strong. I suppose healing takes a very long time and I'm trying, but I miss you so very much. I do know you suffered beyond relief and am relieved you found peace. I love you Mom with all my heart. You will always be by my side. You gave me life and we shared so much. I am me because of you. Rest easy Mom. Love, Your Big Girl.

“ My deepest condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. While nothing will completely take away your grief, by meditating on God's promises found in the Bible, you can find real hope and the strength to keep going. My family and I have found the scripture at Isaiah 25:8 to be especially comforting. Here it promises that God "will swallow up death forever and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces.

“ To the Thomas and Hubbard Families, I I was saddened to hear of your loved ones transition from this life to a new life. This life is not our final resting place; Only God knows when we have served for the last time. Now, family it is up to us to get your soul prepared to meet our Savior, the Jesus Christ. Jesus will be coming back for those who have given their lives to Jesus. Stop making it a hard thing to do or trying to find an excuse;, yes, in some cases it is very difficult. To give up one life for a better life full of joy, love and happiness and peace for evermore. This world is not our home, this life is not a practice run, but it is the final run, so some family and friends are acting like there is another million years before Christ comes. Forgive and love one another, while you have the chance. The burial grows have all ages and sizes. Which one will your be? My prayers, peace, and blessings to all the family, friends who know Mrs. Hubbard.

“ My dear wife and I would like to extend our condolences for the loss of your loved one with the hope that we can in some small way comfort you as we have been comforted by what the Bible reveals to us about GOOD NEWS from Almighty God.He promises that one day his only-begotten son, Jesus Christ is personally going to bring back to life all those who have died, just as Jesus did when he was a man on earth (John 5:28, 29; John 11:43,44). What a glorious day that will be. We know it's a reality and sure hope since it is impossible for Almighty God to lie (Titus 1:2; Isaiah 55:10,11). Until that day may you find comfort from the God of all comfort (2 Corinthians 1:3,4) with whatever trials come your way. Our thoughts and prayers are with all of you.
