“ In the short time I knew you, I grew to love your easy going spirit, your strength to overcome adversity, your philosophy lessons, your realness and your infectious smile. I always looked forward to the almost daily phone conversations with you and Brittany. You were so wise beyond your years. I'm going to miss hearing you calling me Aunt Ronnie and the three of us laughing until our sides hurt. I am forever grateful for the real joy and happiness you brought to my niece's life. Until we meet again..Aunt Ronnie Taylor-Oross

“ Brooks, I will forever miss all of the special moments we had together. God gave me such a blessing by allowing me to share time with you. We were truly inseparable and you were my very best friend. That is something I will always hold near and dear to my heart. I will always remember how you would wake up early everyday and go to work then get off from work and call me and say, "Sunshine, where you at?" I loved when you called me that. You were a man that did not hide who you were or your past but did not let that stop or define the man that you became. You would use your tests and trials you had in your life to share with others to be a testimony of change and growth. You completely turned your life around and allowed nothing to get in your way. You had an infectious laugh, very charismatic and was full of so much love for everyone around you. You never took for granted the little things just being alive, and free you would often say being alive and free was a blessing and you were grateful. You were truly an example of God's Glory and I will always be your Sunshine. Love you always, till I see you again in the sky, Glory and Sunshine Brittany Jones
