

Carrie Mae Brown

January 7, 1937 - December 15, 2018

OBITUARY

Carrie Mae Brown, affectionately known as Carrie Mae, was born to the late Ethel Savage and Howard Lane on January 7, 1937. Early on Saturday morning, December 15, 2018, God rewarded Carrie Mae an early Christmas gift, the gift of eternal life, as He called her home from service to reward.

Carrie Mae was raised in Eastville Station and educated in the Northampton County public school system.

Carrie Mae was a faithful member of Bethel AME Church in Eastville, Virginia, where she served on various committees, organizations and Boards and was in attendance every Sunday, until her health failed. She had many gifts and talents, one of which was her homemade sweet rolls and her impeccable style of dress.

She found her calling in serving others, and after 25 years of serving others in the Dietary department of Shore Memorial Hospital, she retired and spent her time traveling, visiting family and friends. Throughout the week, you could find her at the Senior Center. Carrie Mae loved her family and the first family reunion in years was held at her house. She also loved to play spades and dominoes.

Carrie Mae was preceded in death by her husband of forty (40) years, Robert Brown, a sister, Gayle Gallaway, and two brothers, James Gallaway and Walter Morris.

She leaves everlasting memories with: her son, Larry Savage (Deborah) of Louisiana; grandson, Remond Mullen (Teresa) of Hampton, Virginia; one granddaughter, Elizabeth McAllister; two sisters Susie Brooks of Machipongo, VA and Marshelia Spady (Larry) of Hampton, Virginia; a brother, Lawrence Gallaway of Virginia Beach, VA; five grandchildren, Elijah Mullen of Hampton, VA, Tierra Deacon of Philadelphia, PA, Rachel DeCormier of Michigan, Isaiah McAllister of Los Angeles, CA and Emily McAllister of Los Angeles, CA, as well as a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.

“ Larry it is never easy losing a love one and especially a mom. Even though we are unable to be there with you, please know our prayers are continually an offering unto the Lord for you. Trust God with the care of your mom and trust Him to strengthen you and the family on a daily basis. God is able to do exceedingly, abundantly more than you can ever hope for. He is gracious and merciful. He will comfort you because He cares for you. Your family in New Jersey sends love and prayers. Pearlie, Bernice and family.
