Clarence Wayne Trader Sr. was surrounded by his loving family when he went home to Glory on Saturday, October 24, 2015 at Peninsula Regional Medical Center, in Salisbury, Maryland. Clarence, the son of the late Clarence V.

Trader and Lucille J. Marshall Trader was born in Frankford Delaware, May 1, 1952. At the age of thirteen, he was welcomed to the home of his Uncle William (Cigar) and Aunt Mary Sadberry in Pittsville, Md “CT” as he was affectionately known, graduated from Pittsville High School, class of 1970. After graduating, CT joined the United States Army and served for three years. While serving he did a tour in Korea and afterwards received an honorable discharge. The majority of his employment years were with Showell Poultry Farms. After Showell, he enjoyed several years in the field of construction.

CT was joined in holy matrimony to Doreen Amos in 1979. From this union God blessed them with six beautiful children.

At an early age CT joined Glasshill United Methodist Church and later transferred his membership to Mt. Calvary Holiness Church, both located in Parsonsburg Md. The latter part of CT’s Christian walk was worshiping at New Dimensions Family Ministries under the pastoral leadership of Bishop Jesse E. C. Abbott.

He embraced and loved everything about life and his family. His nine grandchildren and his great grandson brought him so much joy. He enjoyed boxing and sparing. To CT, his clean black Dodge Plymouth "Bad News" was priceless.

CT leaves cherished memories with his wife Doreen, three daughters; Kelly (Christopher) Hankerson, of Salisbury MD., Rianya and Brianya of Fruitland, Md. Three sons; Jamel and Trevon of Fruitland Md., Clarence Jr. of Salisbury Md; One brother Eric Trader, two sisters, Glenda (Gene) Garrison and Sharon (Glen) Armstrong all of Salisbury, Md. His precious grandchildren; Tianya, Ja'Bre, Kristin, Christopher and Ashanti Hankerson, Tyana, Trezure, Ty'Jae, and Cayden Trader; a great grandson, Noah Caldwell. Also cherishing his memory is his dear Aunt Barbara Marshall, Dover Delaware, a host of nieces, nephews, relatives and friends. He was grateful to have by his side, a devoted caregiver Coya Williams.

In addition to his parents he was preceded in death by his sister, Nina L. Trader.

“ My Dear Sweet Uncle C.T.

I cannot say, and will not say, that you are dead. You are just away. With a cheery smile, and a wave of a hand, you've wandered into an unknown land, and left us to dream how wonderful it must be there. I love you so much, but I know God loves you more! When he saw that your battle had become too much, he extended his arms to you, and you ran into his warm embrace. I mourn not for the fact that you're gone, but for what my heart has lost. Your amazing personality, and contagious smile. The early morning phone calls, and when I say early I mean early!!! In your voice as only you could you say, Good morning Gee-Ahh, where's MeeMahw working? To hear you say, I love you or to ask for some oodles and noodles, a candy bar, some cake or cookies, a cup of coffee or a Pepsi. All these things I will truly miss, but it gives my heart joy and peace to know that you're rejoicing with your loved ones that had gone on before you, and that there's no more pain and sickness. Sometimes you will not know the value of a moment until it becomes a memory. Therefore, live every moment, laugh every day, and love beyond words! Death leaves a heartache that no one can heal, but love leaves memories that no one can steal. Now as you energetically said last Thursday as you were leaving the hospital; "Let's get this party started" I pray that you are because you truly deserve to. Until I'm graced to be in your presence again, I love you!

“ Please accept my sincere condolences during this time of sorrow. We look forward to the day when all those in the memorial tombs will hear Jesus' voice and come out (John 5:28,29). Until that blessed day, may the GOD of all comfort grant you peace (2 Cor. 1:3,4) while many fond memories of Clarence warm your hearts.

“ I am sorry for your loss, please accept my sincere condolences. I hope you will find some comfort and strength in Jesus promise of the earthly resurrection(Acts 24:15)and the renewed Paradise earth, where death will be no imore and no family will mourn the death of a loved one.-Revelation 21:3,4;John 5:28,29;Luke 23:43. May GOD(Psalms 83:18)grant you peace and comfort now, during this grievous time.-Matthew 5:4.
