

Cleo D. Hampton

October 17, 1940 - August 2, 2020

Cleo D. Hampton, was born to the late Julian and Jenny Belle Hampton, in Thompson, Georgia, on October 17, 1940. The family moved to Roanoke, Virginia, where she attended school.

Cleo relocated to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and was employed at Lankenau Hospital, as a dietary aide until she retired.

Cleo loved to travel and spending time with her family. She joined Abyssinian Baptist Church, in Philadelphia and became a happy member of the Usher Board. She instilled Christ in her grandchildren's lives at an early age, getting them all baptized in August 1990.

Cleo shared a special bond with her six grand kids. She loved taking them out of the city and going on summer road trips. Every Friday she would pick them up and take them out on their weekly dinner date which she never missed.

Cleo is preceded in death by her son, Dexter B. Hampton; great granddaughter, Cache Loren Cromartie; brother, Tad Hampton; nephew, Marcel Alston and sister-in-law, Linda B. Hampton.

Cleo leaves her lasting wisdom and great memories to her two sons, Tony Hampton and Allen Hampton; brother Willie; sisters, Daisy , Willabelle, Doretha and Pearl; six grandchildren, Ty'Aera, Ny'Dera (Micole Brooks), Takeria, Terrell (Meg Hogan), Tyrell and Ayannah; four great-grandchildren, Nafiys, Zion, Christian, and Zaiden; grandchildren's mothers, Marcell Hampton and Althea McCants; longtime friend, Thomas Scott; her neighbors, on Bonitz Street; and host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.
