

Daisy T. Williams

September 30, 1934 - February 21, 2018

Daisy T. Williams, age 83, peacefully passed away on Wednesday, February 21, 2018. Daisy was born to the late Elliott Tindal and Maude Minter on September 30, 1934 in Sumter, South Carolina.

Daisy met her husband, Philip Darden Jr., and they were blessed with one son, Paul Gerard Darden. They traveled throughout Europe and later returned to America residing in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for 40 years. Phillip Darden Jr. passed away in 1981. Later, she met and married James Williams, now deceased. Daisy enjoyed a good life and after the passing of her last husband she continued her education by obtaining a Master's degree in Library Science and continued to work in the Pittsburgh, Public School System. Daisy retired in 1997.

In addition to her parents and two husbands, Daisy was preceded in death by one brother, Cleveland E. Tindal.

Daisy is survived by son Paul Darden (Darlene); one granddaughter, Toshieka Lloyd (Harry); one grandson, Paul Darden Jr.; one great-grandson, Jayden Lloyd; two nieces, Daisy M. Tindal-Simpson and Susan Nicks; two nephews, Harold Tindal and Michael Tindal; two first cousins; a few relatives; and several friends.

Daisy met many friends whom she adored. Daisy was a joy and pleasure to be with.

“ My dear wife and I would like to extend our condolences for the loss of your loved one. We send this condolence with the sure hope the Bible provides all of us at difficult times like this.
As recorded in the Bible, God's only-begotten son, Jesus promises that one day he is personally going to bring back to life all those who have died (John 5:28, 29; 11:43, 44). As death is an enemy to us, it is also an enemy to Almighty God (1 Corinthians 15:26). For that reason, as well as others, He promises to remove from this earth FOREVER all the pain, suffering, wickedness, and DEATH that mankind has had to endure for thousands of years (Revelation 21:3-5; Psalm 37:10, 11, 29). What a glorious day that will surely be! It's a reality and a sure hope that we can trust in because it is absolutely impossible for God to lie (Titus 1:2).
My wife and I sincerely encourage you to look up and meditate on these noted scriptures in your own Bible (1 Timothy 4:15, 16; 2 Timothy 3:16, 17). You will surely be encouraged and comforted by the marvelous hope our Grand Creator has in store for us (John 17:3). Our thoughts and prayers are with all of you.

“ To Daisy’s family,
I am deeply sorry for your loss. It is my hope that your memories of Daisy will comfort you during the difficult days ahead. May you also find comfort in the Bible’s promise of a resurrection of our loved ones who have died. One scripture which highlights this reassuring hope is John 5:28, 29. There Jesus assured his followers that he will resurrect those who have died and we can have full confidence that this will come true. Jesus also resurrected three individuals while he was here on earth including his friend Lazarus. These accounts give additional confidence and comfort to those of us who have lost loved ones in death.

“ My deepest condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. While nothing will completely take away your grief by meditating on God’s promises found in the Bible you can find real hope and the strength to keep going. My family and I have found the scripture at Isaiah 25:8 to be especially comforting. Here it promises that God "will swallow up death forever and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces."
