“ My deepest condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. While nothing will completely take away your grief, by meditating on Gods promises found in the Bible, you can find real hope and the strength to keep going. My family and I have found the scripture at Isaiah 25:8 to be especially comforting. Here it promises that God "will swallow up death forever and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces."

“ To The Family of Delmar Brown Sr.,

It's with sad hearts that we send our condolences. "Uncle Del" is what we called him. We will truly miss him. He was such a fine example of a faithful servant to Jehovah. Seeking Jehovah was always first in his life.

He was always available to go out in the ministry to lead his group in service. We could count on "Uncle Del" when it was time to go out in the ministry. He would take the lead and it was easy to be regular with that type of leadership. Speaking to all he'd meet in the door to door ministry and wherever he would find a person that could hear "Uncle Del" would give a witness.

The most recent and memorable witness was to my husband Hosea. He loved Jehovah and he wanted all that he came into contact with to know the God he served. He told my husband man you want to get to the Kingdom Hall. Come on and serve Jehovah before it's to late.

He went in the ministry during his sickness whenever he could move and walk he was preaching and teaching to others about the great God Jehovah whom he loved so much.

We have his sterling example to imitate as we continue in our race for life. We look forward to seeing him soon with eyes of faith coming back and questioning us about what we were doing right down to the end.

It's our faithful course of loyalty and faithfulness that we must continue so that we can be there to Welcome "Uncle Del" back into a peaceful new earth where sickness will be no more. (Isaiah 33:24)
