October 8, 1933 - October 21, 2020

Delores Pouncy went home to Jesus on October 21st, 2020 at age 88.

Delores was born to William and Charlotte Gant on October 8th, 1933. As a child she grew up in Savannah, GA where she spoke of her first job picking cotton. She also gained a very strong bond with her aunt Leila, (Uncle James Harley's wife) who also helped in raising her.

Later in life she moved up north to New York City where she met her husband Rev. John E. Pouncy. She married Rev. Pouncy on February 4th, 1967, although they chose to celebrate their anniversary on Valentines Day.

In addition to being a dedicated and loving mother, Delores always had a heart for children. Even if they weren't hers biologically, she was known to take them into her home and raise them. She also had a passion for reading, singing, flowers, spending time with family, traveling, cooking/baking, and loved to laugh and make others laugh. During her lifetime she also held numerous jobs. Some to name a few were: home health aid, librarian, laundry assistant in the hotels, and she also dabbled as a fitness guru at Curves where she was known for wearing her vast ensemble of colorful bright hats. She also sang in the gospel group "The Gospel Choraliers" and continued her passion for singing for the Lord for the rest of her life. Her favorite song is "His Eyes Is On The Sparrow," which she sang with full conviction and passion. Throughout her entire life, she held an unwavering faith in God, which she shared with those who surrounded her.

Delores joins: parents William and Charlotte Gant, siblings Abraham and Alberta, son Michael Pouncy, and nieces Gloria and Renee in Heaven.

She is survived by: husband Rev. John Pouncy, son Larry Douglas Sr. and wife Ella, son Marchon Pouncy (Marky), daughter Cassandra Pouncy, and a host of grandchildren and nieces and nephews.

The King will reply, 'Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me.'
