

Diangelo Lamont Joynes Jr.

May 2, 1998 - April 15, 2021

DiAngelo Lamont Joynes, Jr., known as “Big D”, was born on May 2, 1998. On April 15, 2021, at the age of 22, DiAngelo passed away at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland.

He was a 2017 graduate of Indian River High School. DiAngelo loved to wrestle and play football at Selbyville Middle School but due to his health issues, was unable to nurture those talents.

Big D was a beloved fiancé’, son, brother, dad, nephew, grandson, cousin and friend, who loved to entertain and make people laugh. He enjoyed having a good time and spending time with his children.

DiAngelo is survived by his loving parents, Marlo Joynes and DiAngelo Joynes, Sr., of Millsboro, Delaware; fiancé; Brianna Harmon, of Greenwood, Delaware; 2 sisters, Marissa Joynes and Cassandra Joynes, both of Millsboro, Delaware; a brother, Jeremiah Joynes of Bear, Delaware; and two beautiful daughters, Au’Bri Harmon-Joynes and Ay’La Harmon-Joynes of Greenwood, Delaware.

DiAngelo was preceded in death his maternal grandmother; and paternal grandparents.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Bennie Smith Funeral Home by calling Cindy Taylor at 302-632-8532.

Tribute Wall

CM

“ I'm always remember you jr. On the westside as a handsome little man.that smile your laugh; and all the good times me and your mom and sissy had.the barbecues the parks carnivals just so many things that we did together when we live on the west side. My condolences to the family marlo and Sissy and D'Angelo my prayers are with you and your family may God call for you all for the loss of your son he was a great man. May God bless you all love you Carmilla Maldonado ; my daughter Tanisha Maldonado Tyrayea Maldonado.love you all

Carmilla Maldonado - April 22, 2021 at 06:45 PM

BH

“ Rest easy baby look over your precious girls gone too soon \ud83d\udef4\ud83c\udffcEveryone loves and misses you\u2764\ufe0f

Brianna Harmon - April 22, 2021 at 05:05 PM