Closing:

Dianna Hope Pollard, while on earth, was a devoted woman of God, with extreme faith and faithfulness; a dear, devoted, and virtuous wife, with the spirit of a Pastor's Wife and a Church Mother; a prayerful mother; a daughter who brought great cheer to her parents; a wise and comforting sister and an endearing aunt. Her family, church family, friends, and the community, will truly miss this exceptional and unique treasure, which is all to the Glory of God Almighty, in the name of Jesus the Christ.

“ What can I say about my friend Hope??? What a wonderful blessing she was to the kingdom of God and everyone around her. She had a quite spirit and loved serving others. When I met Sister Hope I had a bad habit of saying no to any request from most people. But I could not tell her no. We worked together in the outreach ministry, which she loved. She was such a giving person and you could easily tell when her hand was in something, Hope also thought I was a real Chef, little did she know some of the meals she requested of me, I had no idea what they were, but you know Sister Hope she said that the food was always good to her belly. I will miss Hope and I am praying for Henry because I know he feels the void. Sleep on Hope take your rest, we're just waiting on the trumpet sound. Love, prayers and Condolences to the family. “ Wow! I was just talking about her the week she passed. We were childhood neighbors and friends in the Ridgecrest Addition in Longview, Texas. I will forever cherish the sweet memories I have of her and her siblings. I know God never makes mistakes and his will was done. Keeping you all lifted in prayer. I give my deepest sympathy to the entire family!
