Tribute Wall

“ I am Eleanor Morris, wife of Lyle E Morris, son of Dad, Eli A Morris (Elsie) as we often called him...was a very good man. He loved and adored all members of his family. He was very jovial and humorous. It was never boring being around him.

Elsie, never let the madness of this world get him nor stress him out. I guess he was too blessed to be stressed. He had a close relationship with the Lord. He was a God fearing man and he never kept it a secret. And as a result, we have no doubt that his soul, the breath of life is sealed in the Lamb's Book of Life until resurrection.

Even though, (due to certain circumstances) we are unable to be present along with mom, and our other loved ones and friends, at the ceremony of dad's temporary resting place... our hearts are there in Dover, to bid him so long until we meet again in that sweet bye and bye.

Therefore, on behalf of my husband and the rest of our family up here, we send our sincere sympathy to mom and the entire Morris family. God bless you all.

“ Brother Morris was such an amazing man who loved the Lord. His happy jovial spirit was so infectious, and his big laugh just filled the room and made everyone around him love him. Sleep on brother Morris. You were a life well lived. Sympathy to the entire Morris family. Alvin, Nadene & Alisa Moss

Uncle Eli was a lovely, lovable, Godly man. I will always remember his welcoming demeanor and joyful spirit when we would make visits t Westmoreland. I have childhood memories of him joking and laughing. I felt joy and peace in his presence. Even during his illness when we visited him in Dover some years ago, that gentle sweet spirit remained. May he sleep in peace until the resurrection. Deepest condolence to Aunt Beryl, my cousins and their families and the rest of family.
