“ *To The Family,
Please accept my condolence. I hope that you are able to draw comfort from the scriptures during this difficult time.
It mentions a time when all of humankind will have the privilege of reuniting with our loved ones who have fallen asleep in death. Jesus Christ's words at John 5:28, 29 assure us that such an exciting time will definitely take place.
Again, you have my deepest sympathy*

“ To all the family, here's hoping your hearts are healing.I wake up every morning now knowing I will not be hearing or seeing Ellen. I miss her so much.I know she loved all of you and she would not want us to mourn to long. Her jokes will always keep me smiling.May you all find peace knowing she was loved by so many.God Bless you all.

“ Hey there, It's me...What's going on? Playing any nickle up? It snowed today, again...Hope this is the last of it..The flowers so want to bloom and I know you liked to see them do that..I just wanted to say I'm still missing you and that I love you. So for now it's Joy saying talk to you later.. I'll miss hearing you call me that, You were the only one to do so...Made me feel special...RIP always...

“ Good morning Queenie, a week ago to day you decided to leave your family and friends. Your heart wanted to go to a better happier place. Your family misses you so very much and so do your friends. My heart aches for my cousins who will be grieving for a while, but they will enjoy the so many happy memories you left behind. I miss you and love you very much.

“ I am sorry to read of the passing of your loved one. Words don't always ease the pain when you are grieving the death of a loved one, but I hope you will find comfort in Jesus' promise of the resurrection hope(Acts 24:15)when he will raise up those who are now sleeping in death(John 11:11) restoring them back to life, on the renewed Paradise earth(John 5:28,29; Luke 23:43) what a wonderful blessing to look forward too. Until then, may GOD (Psalms 83:18) grant you peace and comfort during this grievous time.-Matthew 5:4.
