Evelyn Gayle Marshall Labo

On September 6, 2024, Evelyn Gayle Mashall Labo went home to be with the Lord. Gayle was the daughter of the late Percy J. Marshall and Reby Thomas Canby.

Gayle, as she was known to most, lost her battle with cancer, but not before marrying her partner of over forty-nine (49) years, Duane Labo, the love of her life. The couple were wed at Tidal Health in the ICU Unit with a beautiful ceremony arranged completely by the ICU staff and dietary department, complete with flowers and a wedding cake. Unfortunately, Gayle passed away the next day.

Gayle and Duane worked side by side at Metompkin Bay (IT) for most of her working career. She loved every day of it. Gayle truly loved the Metompkin crew. She was one of the hardest working women we have met.

Gayle leaves behind to cherish her memory: her husband, Duane Labo; her sisters, Gina Poole (John) Ebam and Wanda Marshall; niece, Shelly Marshall (Michael) and family; nephews, John M. (Dana) and family and David Marshall (Lisa) and family, along with Tangier family.

In addition to her parents, Gayle was preceded in death by her grandparents, George and Evelyn Thomas Tangier and Percy and Blanch Marshall; her nephew, Jake Poole and most recently, her brother, James "Jimmy" Marshall. The family requests in lieu of flowers, please make donations to Bennie Smith Funeral Home.
