

George Francis Ferrell

May 14, 1928 - November 12, 2019

George Francis Ferrell saw the sun rise on May 14, 1928, and the sun set on his life on November 12, 2019. George was one of six children, born from the union of James Adolphus and Annie Elvira Ferrell, in Georgetown, Guyana. George migrated to the United States, 51 years ago. In the US, he first worked as a cabinet maker and casket builder, then later as a cook at Kingsbrook Jewish Medical Center for 30 years, before his retirement.

George was an avid gardener and liked nothing better than to be among the flower and vegetable gardens that he planted and tended to each year. His vegetable growing and landscaping skills were especially legendary. He loved the outdoors and reveled in being among the trees, flowers and birds. He even loved shoveling snow!

George was famous for being an avid music enthusiast and he possessed a large and varied record collection, particularly full of his favorite jazz artists. He also loved watching Westerns and doing weight lifting exercises.

George is survived by two sisters, Enid Carmen Springer and Leila Monica Venture; brother-in-law, Malcolm Venture; sister-in-law, Carmen Ferrell; nieces and nephews, Gordon Ferrell, Veronica Venture, Bernadine Bowens, Patrick Ferrell Jr., Michelle Ferrell and Sharlene Ferrell; niece-in-law, Joy Ferrell; grand nephews and nieces, Joshua Ferrell, Patrick Ferrell III, Tyra Ferrell, Jeremy Ferrell, Terence Bowens, Terrell Bowens and Aniah Ferrell.
