“ Please accept my condolence. My heart goes out to you in your time of sorrow. May you find comforting Job 14:14, 15, which says, “If an able-bodied man dies can he live again? You will call, and I myself shall answer you. For the work of your hands you will have a yearning.”

“ I can't say that I know how you feel at this time and I don't know your pain, but the Bible recommends, " Rejoice with those who rejoice and weep with people who weep “,so until your tears turn into joy, for this reason; I would like to extend my deepest sympathy for the loss of your dear loved one.-Romans 12:15. I would also like to share my belief on the resurrection hope with you(Acts 24:15). Soon Jesus will fulfill God's will on earth, by raising up and restoring back to life, those who are now sleeping in death; with the wonderful prospect of living forever on the restored Paradise earth, where sickness and death will no longer plague mankind.-John 5:28,29; Luke 23:43. Until that blessing unfolds and you share in the reunion with your deceased loved one; may GOD(Psalms 83:18) grant your family peace and comfort, during this grievous time.-Isaiah 66:13.

“ To the Glover Family: I am truly sorry to hear about the loss for your dear loved one. There are many words of comfort I would like to say: however, it has often been found that the best sources of comfort is found in God's word. God is aware of your pain. "He is healing the brokenhearted ones, And is binding up their painful spots." (Psalms 147:3) Death was never meant to be. (Genesis 2:17) Therefore, "He will actually swallow up death forever, And the Sovereign Lord will certainly wipe the tears from all faces." (Isaiah 25:8) May the hope of being reunited with your deceased loved one bring you a measure of comfort.
