

Jamal H. Weeks

October 18, 1979 - July 13, 2015

Jamal Weeks, age 35, departed this life on Monday, July 13, 2015. Jamal Weeks was born and raised in Milford, Delaware on October 18, 1979 to Orrin Teat and Shirley Ann Weeks of Milford, Delaware.

Jamal was a life-long resident of Dover, Delaware. He received his Associates Degree in Culinary Arts at Delaware Technical Community College. He was pursuing his Masters Degree in Business Administration at DSU.

In his earlier years, Jamal had a passion with great determination of promoting healthy eating habits and loved to put his culinary art skills to use on the grill at family gatherings. He loved to carry on good conversations and teach his children, younger cousins and their friends in the community how to become better people. Jamal loved his family and cared about family unity and others making their dreams come true. Jamal kept his close friends and family close to his heart. Anybody who knew him knew that Jamal was a true gamer on his PlayStation. His favorite teams were the Eagles and Phillies. Jamal's favorite color was Red.

Jamal Weeks was preceded in death by his father, Orrin Leon Teat and his special "Great-Grandmother Emily Jane Harper" aka Granny. He is survived by his mother, Shirley Ann Weeks and fiancé, Aisha Hurley; grandmother, Shirley Weeks (Ross); grandfather, James Ross, Sr.; his children, Jamal Williams and Javal Williams; five step-children, Tyion Wilson, Na-Na Wilson, Marisha Malloy, Camron Baines and Amir Baines; grandchild, Brielle Anise Wilson; his brothers and sisters, Keith Duffy, Aneatra Duffy, Usef Weeks,

Monique Weeks and Sylvia Weeks; an aunt, "the son she never had," Renee Rose (Larry); a special cousin, Fatima Weeks; a host of uncles, aunts, nieces, nephews and cousins of Ross, Weeks, Hitchens, Russ, Cannons, Teat, Duffy, and Hicks family; and a abundance of friends and family.
