

James E. Allen Jr.

September 12, 1990 - December 1, 2016

James Edward Allen, Jr. completed his earthly assignment on December 1, 2016. Though his journey was sometime arduous, his love for family and other loved ones remained steadfast, without wavering or without doubt.

James was born on September 12, 1990 to Tylesia Dennis and the late James Allen, Sr. He was educated in the Baltimore County school system.

“Bumpy”, his nickname which was given at birth by his Uncle Aney, was his name of preference, and most knew him by his nickname. If not, he would let them know “Bumpy” is his name and conversation was over, and he would make it known quickly. His personality was multi-faceted and could be described as perplexing, especially to those who only saw his outer core. Within his small frame, it was hard to imagine how he could have such a big heart and have a true heart. Often those who knew him found it hard to describe his compassion, commitment, and courage. Some say it was immeasurable. Others say it exceeded the size of Baltimore, ran deep as the Chesapeake, and wide as the Atlantic. His loyalty was always abounding and astonishing. Webster’s dictionary has a definition of loyalty, but Bumpy should be the definition.

Bumpy has left indelible memories for so many friends and family. He leaves: his mother, Ty; one brother, Byron and adopted brothers Raymond of Baltimore, MD, and Marcus Dennis of Pocomoke City, MD; maternal grandparents, Earl and Winnette Dennis of Pocomoke City, Maryland; Grandma Grace (Steve) Dennis; five aunts, Poinsettia Dennis, Karen Kinsey, Mattie Williams, Lisa Fletcher and Hazel Allen; three uncles, Andre Dennis, Judson Fletcher and Earl C. Dennis, Jr.; five great aunts, Shelley (Odell) McCoy of Baltimore, Maryland, Addie (Bill) Byrd, Francis Williams, Allene Bozman and Carry Marie Dennis.

In addition to his father, Bumpy was preceded in death by his paternal grandmother, Bertha Allen.
