“ Uncle Jim,

Thank you for challenging me , for fueling my determination to “come to the table educated and prepared.” (Moore debate of ‘91) My first “adversary in debate “ you helped me to learn to hold my own and taught me to stand my ground if I felt strongly enough.

I can hear your rich voice laughing , the Scottish brogue working its way through; like a warm blanket of joy.

Thank you for being my Godfather❤️

May Grammy & Papa welcome you home to the Lord’s embrace with Papa playing a 🍀 jig on the fiddle and with the laughter and cheer you brought to us all.

Aunt Sandy , my love & deepest condolences to you, Nicole and your grandchildren.
