OC

“ I was very sorry to hear of your passing. We will all meet again soon enough; but for now I will remember you as a man who fought for as long as he could. Thank you for trying to take the path that would have saved you, even if it was too hard a road to follow. I will miss you. You had more friends than you realized, who will miss you. Thank you for carrying a message by your actions.

OC

“ I was very sorry to hear that you have left us for now. We will all meet again soon but in the meantime I will remember you as a man who struggled and tried to keep fighting. It is infinitely saddening that none of the many around you who wanted to help were able to do so. Thank you for helping us as much as you could. You will be greatly missed by the friends you may have never realized you had.
