“ My deepest condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. While nothing will completely take away your grief, by meditating on Gods promises found in the Bible, you can find real hope and the strength to keep going. My family and I have found the scripture at Isaiah 25:8 to be especially comforting. Here it promises that God "will swallow up death forever and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces.

“ My dear wife and I would like to extend our condolences for the loss of your loved one. It is our hope that in some small way we may comfort you as we have been comforted with what the Bible reveals to us about good news from Almighty God. He promises that one day soon, his son, Jesus Christ will bring back to life all those who have died, just as he did when he was a man on earth (John 5:28, 29; John 11:43,44). We trust in God's promises because the Bible tells us that it is "impossible for God to lie" (Titus 1:2; Hebrews 6:18). Until that glorious and heart-warming day may you be comforted with the sure hope (2 Corinthians 1:3,4) as it helps give you the strength needed to endure the trials ahead. Our thoughts and prayers are with all of you.
