“ Kevin, I recall when we first met. You and my sister, Andrea came to visit me in Atlanta. I still remember looking out my peephole and seeing your face. I would never answer the door for a stranger like that. But you knew to call me by my childhood nickname that only my father called me by. So I knew then that you were ok and we became instant friends.

You gave me away at my wedding. You became my brother and over the years we've talked about the kids and how special Karen, Christina, Khalil, Chanel and Syfee were to you. You were especially proud of being a grandpa. You kept them in your heart and in your prayers. You will be missed as a friend and brother. God has you now. Love you. Angie

“ To the Children, Grandchildren, Brothers, Sisters, and extended family of the late Kevin A. Hill, I send my heartfelt condolences. Kevin and I met in 1981 at my first duty station, Fort Sam Houston in Texas. Soon after that we got married and started our family. Although we did not stay together, I am grateful to have two lovely children from the marriage. I am thankful that, over the years, Kevin took some time to build a relationship with his children and Grandson. These are memories that will remain in their hearts and sustain them through this loss. I pray that the Lord will comfort and console the Hill family. I encourage you all to reach out to each other and share memories with each other; this will make your hearts a little lighter. Rest in peace Kevin; your days of pain and suffering are over. May the Lord bless each of you.

Sincerely,
Patricia Hill

“ Kevin family: Condolences from Sabree and Angie. You had one great brother, father, etc.

Kevin has been one great guy throughout the years of knowing him. We met back in the 90s and I felt a cool connection with him every since. You know, hes the kind of bruh that you could go months without talking to ... then when you later chat it seems like you never missed a beat in your friendship. I loved play arguing with him. (you know that he enjoyed a good debate). We both enjoyed doing that :) I loved the friendship that he shared w my wife, Angie. They could chat for hours. Seeing that, only made me feel more love for my little buddy. She is missing him like crazy right now :(Sure am gonna miss my lil buddy too. Hes the type guy that you wanna have one more conversation with :)
