“ To the Family, I'm so sorry for your loss. Matthew 22:32, Jesus quoted God as saying: 'I am the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob.' Then he continued: 'He is the God, not of the dead, but of the living.' I know that those words mean that those retained in God's memory and will return in the resurrection. Ms Woodson

“ My deepest condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. While nothing will completely take away your grief, by meditating on God's promises found in the Bible, you can find real hope and the strength to keep going. My family and I have found the scripture at Isaiah 25:8 to be especially comforting. Here it promises that God "will swallow up death forever and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces."

“ My dear wife and I would like to extend our condolences for the loss of your loved one. During this difficult time may you be comforted by the promise the Bible gives us that one day all those who have died will be brought back to life by Jesus Christ (Acts 24:15; John 5:28,29). It is something Jesus did while he was a man on earth as a fore-gleam of what the future holds for all who have died (John 11:43,44). We know it's a reality and sure hope because the Bible tells us that it is impossible for God to lie (Hebrews 6:18; Titus 1:2). Until that glorious day may you be encouraged and comforted as you cope with the challenges of life that all of us have to face each day (2 Corinthians 1:3,4). Our thoughts and prayers are with all of you.
