“ I am truly sorry to hear about the loss of Norris. Please accept my sincere condolences. There are many words of comfort I would like to extend; however, it has been found that the best source of comfort is found in God's word. God is aware of your pain. "He is healing the brokenhearted ones, And is binding up their painful spots." Psalms 147:3 Death was never meant to be. Genesis 2:17 Therefore, He will actually swallow up death forever, And the Sovereign Lord will certainly wipe the tears from all faces." Isaiah 25:8 May the hope of being reunited with your deceased loved one bring you a measure of comfort and joy.

Re: Norris Wilmer Family and Friends

Dear Family and friends of the late Norris Wilmer:

It is with great sorrow I communicate with everyone today. I was informed of my beloved brother's passing and was greatly saddened. He was part of an ever decreasing core of brothers and sisters that represent the children of our beloved parents Charles and Emma Wilmer. As they were loved and respected by family, friends and community, so are their sons and daughters and most of all our beloved brother and friend, Norris.

Norris was one of the younger sons of our parents, but always seemed to be able to make us all laugh and smile. His personality was a bright light in the house and in our lives. He spent time with his sisters and their family in Philadelphia during his military years. It was always great joy to see him and a great sorrow to see my brother pass away. I know that I speak for the entire family when I say he will be missed and loved throughout time.

We sincerely hope the legacy we leave will benefit the world today, especially the young. It is what we leave behind that benefit others that are so precious and dear to God. We truly wish to serve our Lord and help others through the trying times throughout life.

Sincerely,

Frances V. Alston (Wilmer)
