

Pearline Stewart

May 30, 1936 - August 24, 2019

Pearline Stewart was born on Saturday, May 30, 1936, in Rich Square, North Carolina. She was the daughter of the late Sam Shoulars and Beatrice Holden. Pearlina was called home to rest from labor to peace on Saturday, August 24, 2019.

Pearline moved to Seaford, Delaware, at the age of 12.

On July 25, 1956, she married the late James Elliott Stewart. They resided in Bridgeville, Delaware, where they raised five children.

Pearline was employed for 22 years as a poultry worker at Swift & Co. /Purdue. After retirement, she worked 17 additional years for Townsend Bean Factory and Conagra.

Pearline was the epitome of kindness and was known throughout the neighborhood as the world's best cook. Her specialty was southern cuisine, especially collard greens and fried chicken. She cooked and donated food to numerous events and often fed anyone who came to her home hungry.

Pearline was preceded in death by her husband of 58 years, James Elliott Stewart; and one brother, Leroy Shoulars.

Pearline leaves to mourn her passing, her mother, Beatrice J. Holden, Bridgeville, DE; five children, Shirley Anne Stewart and Stacy Dorine Stewart of Bear, DE; James Junior Stewart (Darlene) of Greenwood, DE, Diane Walker (Kenneth) of Freeport, NY; and Loretta Sivels (Quinton) of Lincoln, DE; 18 grandchildren; ten great-grandchildren; two great-great grandchildren; and a host of relatives and friends.

Pearline demonstrated such an ethic of caring and compassion that she will be sorely missed by all who had the pleasure of her company.

Sorrowfully Submitted,
The Family
