“ I'm so sorry for your loss. She was a beautiful young woman. Let me tell you my favorite Bible text. “Blessed be. . . the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our tribulation.”—2 Corinthians 1:3, 4.

“ I am so sorry to read about the loss of your loved one. The bible gives us hope for the future. At Revelation 21:4, it tells us that soon death, tears, mourning and pain will be no more. Also, at Acts 24:15 it says that the dead will be resurrected. Please look forward to that time, and until then, may the God of all comfort grant your entire family peace.

“ There are no words... but we are keeping you in our prayers. We owe you a great deal for the care both "Ms. Porchia"s provided to our children at school. Our hearts are all heavy since hearing the news and we wish that we could ease your pain. Having had days, we still are unable to find the words that could convey our deepest sympathies, but we hope that you will feel our genuine love and prayers and that the Lord will strengthen and provide for you. We will always remember the kindness and care you both had shared with us. Our lives were all better for knowing you. May the Lord Bless and Keep you- Rob, Melissa, Ila, Faith and John

“ I would like to offer my condolences for your loss. How comforting it is to know that Jehovah, the God of all comfort, will soon eliminate all grief and provide permanent consolation when “all those in the memorial tombs will hear Christ’s voice and come out”! (John 5:28, 29) God promises that “he will do away with death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces.” (Isa. 25:8) Then, instead of having to “weep with those who weep,” all earth’s inhabitants will “rejoice with those who rejoice.”—Rom. 12:15.
