

Rembert O. Brown

January 11, 1930 - January 29, 2022

Rembert O. Brown, 92 died peacefully, holding his daughter's hand, on January 29, 2022. Born in Augusta, Georgia, he was a graduate of Emory University, he was a veteran of the Korean War, and worked in advertising in NYC, Chicago, Atlanta and Washington DC, ending his career in Public Relations with the EPA.

Rembert was a master gardener, an avid fisherman and stayed up to date on current events and politics up to his death. He was always ready for adventure and new experiences, discovering Chick-fil-A tenders and ranch dip at 91. His dry wit, appreciation of nature and good company will be sorely missed.

Rembert is survived by his daughters, December Hughes of Rehoboth Beach, DE, Lydia Morris of Chicago, IL, three grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; nephews, Emory, Tom, Bob; niece, Ginger Lipscomb and their large and multi-generational families of DeLonghi, GA, niece, Diane Sharry of Havelock, NC and her family and his ex-wife, Claire Brown of Milton, DE.

“ Rembert taught me how to eat ice cream correctly. Know I get all the flavor in every bitefull. Every Spring we would get the ground ready for planting. Rembert would love to tease me about touching the cow manure, I just wouldn't do it. He was correct it did make the plants grow. I think we both loved to work in the yard till we dropped. Then there were his stories, from his earlier years. they kept me on the edge of my seat. Some I can't repeat. My most favorite story is when he worked for an import car dealer. Rembert and his friends would race Rolls Royce autos, up and down Park Ave in New York City. now try that today!!!! Rembert always took his time to show me a new way of trying an idea we had talked about. he so wanted it to work. Most of all, Rembert, was a close friend, who cared about me and I about him. We shared time, laughs, memories, politics. talks of God and day road trip.that were wonderful. I miss you Rember, You had a good heart, and soul..

“ My memories with REM are treasured ones for me. I was privileged and honored that our paths crossed at DVH. Simply put.....REM was a GEM...a true TREASURE! 💎

He was a man of very eloquently spoken words and you just wanted to stay. His own personal treasure without a doubt was his daughter December. REM would tell you so if you ever talked to him. Many fond caring words circled so lovingly around December. His world! Thank you December for sharing those memories, too. Nice to meet you and I hope our paths cross again. It's been a pleasure meeting you and enjoyed our chats too.

We shared many stories of his life and I learned to LOVE classical musicand still do.

Not so much on the CNN, however but we agreed to disagree and would laugh about it.

He called it news, I called it gossip.... REM had a smile and laugh that were contagious .

As it was wonderfully put, see you on the other side my friend..... with my own added twist to that ...

LORD WILLING AND THE CREEK DONT RISE!

Hugs, sympathies to all and God Bless,
