“ I'm going to miss your laugh, I'm going to miss those so corny jokes you use to tell. I'm going to miss the crazy moments, yet I do have memories of us cooking in culinary arts the time we would just up and ride out. I will cherish our secrets that we promised never to tell. I will cherish our friendship even though I didn't get to say farewell. You will be my best friend till the end. Prayers to all your family love you Steph.

“ My deepest condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. While nothing will completely take away your grief, by meditating on Gods promises found in the Bible, you can find real hope and the strength to keep going. My family and I have found the scripture at Isaiah 25:8 to be especially comforting. Here it promises that God "will swallow up death forever and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces.
