“ To Sherelle, and family, Cedric and I were so sadden to hear the news of your one and only Tyshaun. We both just want you to know how sorry to hear about your lost. I know words cannot change your situation, but hopefully it will comfort you and know that we are praying the Lord strength as you go through this time this season of mourning. Weeping may endured for a night but joy is coming in the morning. I pray that God will be the center of your heart and know that God is to wise to make a mistake, although we don't understand it all now we will in the by and by. Know that God grace is sufficient He will bring you through, take one day at a time grieve, mourn the way you need to and after that God is standing with His arms wide open for you to lay in and His ears are open to your cry late in the midnight hours when no one is around the Father will never ever leave you nor will He forsake you. We love you and we are both praying for you and your entire family. Rev 21v4 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

“ Please accept my condolence. My heart goes out to you in your time of sorrow. May you find comforting Job 14:14, 15, which says, “If an able-bodied man dies can he live again? You will call, and I myself shall answer you. For the work of your hands you will have a yearning.”
